

Point of View Design Mix

Introduced in 2018, Design Mix is a loose lay, mix and match flooring solution. Featuring Point of View, a loose lay luxury vinyl, Design Mix empowers consumers to create unique floors through near limitless color and design combinations.

Point of View is manufactured in the USA and is offered in 15 colors, including palettes that feature cool and warm neutrals that look great individually or mixed together. Consumers can choose from individual colors or from five designer curated groupings to create the perfect floor.

An additional 10 designer-curated, custom floor layouts are available to consumers online. Every pre-selected layout includes an installation grid that provides the color percentages used, making it easy to order the right amount of flooring for each project.
